CANADIAN PACIFIC AIR BOARD EVIDENCE ALLEGED "LOADED"

Supervision Sought For IWA Ballot

The Interior Lumber Manufacturers' Association has requested a government-supervised strike vote among woodworkers in the event the IWA rejects the proposed pay increases.

This was pointed out by a spokesman for S. M. Simpson Ltd., in commenting on the threatened strike which faces the lumber industry.

The southern interior membership of the IWA recently voted overwhelmingly to support any action taken by the union's policy committee.

MEDICAL PLAN

A conciliation board recently recommended two pay increases of three per cent over the next two years. A Medical Services Association plan would also be provided under the new contract. The operators agreed to the board's ruling.

A spokesman for the IWA said there have been "no new developments" and that "no more information can be given out for the present."

A government-supervised strike vote must be taken in the event the IWA rejects the proposed wage increases. If the membership favors a walkout, the union would then be in a position to call a strike within a 48-hour period. However, the union must act within a three-month period, under the terms of the government's labor legislation.

An official of S. M. Simpson Ltd., said that if a strike is called, the plant would shut down and holders would be drained to prevent further damage.

The IWA is seeking equality with coast wages for its interior members. Present basic rate in the southern interior is $1.53 hourly, compared with $1.72 at the coast.

The last major lumber tieup in the interior was in 1953, when the membership walked out to back up demands for wage increases and improved working conditions. They remained out for 103 days.

PRIZE MONEY IN COURIER'S COINWORD CONTEST DOUBLED

For the second consecutive week, the prize money in the Daily Courier's "Coinword" contest has been doubled.

No correct answers were submitted in last week's contest, although the quiz editor admitted that a woman came within one word of having the correct answer.

So sharpen your pencils. Prize money for the correct answer now stands at $90 if the entry is accompanied by a sales slip of a sponsoring merchant. Otherwise the amount is $45.

Correct answer to last week's "Coinword" contest will appear in Friday's Courier.

Officials Ponder Freedomite Bids

BULLETIN

OTTAWA (CP)—If the Sons of Freedom Doukhobors show more concrete signs of their sincerity about returning to Russia than they have so far, the federal government likely will agree to extend their arrangements deadline, it was learned today. The deadline for the Doukhobors to arrange for signing of the necessary immigration application forms was passed at midnight Tuesday night.

HEADS GYROS

Alan Moss on Tuesday night was elected president of the Kelowna Gyro Club for the coming year. He succeeds C. E. R. Bazett. A. R. Pollard was elected vice-president; E. M. Baker, secretary, and L. Sanger, treasurer. The newly elected directors are R. B. Emslie, R. Stewart, Jr., J. D. Taylor and D. C. Vivian. Installation ceremony will be held in the Royal Anne on Wednesday, October 29.

FLASHES

OTTAWA (CP)—Christian George Hanna, 24-year-old stateless runaway, granted permission to live in Canada last year, has been ordered deported by the immigration department, it was announced today. An announcement by the department said the deportation order is effective as of Saturday. He will be deported to Lebanon.

OTTAWA (CP)—Eight provincial governments today appealed to the cabinet against a new $17,000,000-a-year telephone rate increase for Ontario and Quebec.

SAANICH (CP)—More than 40 sticks of dynamite have been removed from under a bridge used daily by scores of school children.

First indications of the danger were noted Monday, when 12-year-old Michael Thompson turned in a stick he had found while playing near the bridge.

How the dynamite got under the bridge is a mystery, investigating officers said.

Blasting expert Arthur Winters said it is of a type usually used in heavy construction blasting.

Expert's Testimony Hard Hit By TCA

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

OTTAWA — TCA counsel John G. Edison charged today that a document which CPA tried to submit as evidence before the air transport board was loaded with distortions and half-truths.

Board chairman C. D. Shepard said he was inclined to agree with Mr. Edison that the document—described as a summary of evidence by CPA witness Frederic Kimball, an American aviation consultant—appeared to have been prepared for more than one purpose.

He admitted the document as evidence because the board felt it should be accepted. But he emphasized that the board has the right to give any evidence introduced "the weight it deserves."

Mr. Edison said Mr. Kimball had included charter and non-scheduled air cargo figures for the period 1946-51. He wondered why he had not made any effort to get similar figures for the 1951-57 period. Instead, Mr. Kimball had included only scheduled flights in that latter period.

"This is the effort I made," Mr. Kimball replied, without saying directly why the full figures were not included for the 1951-57 period.

Mr. Edison also noted that Mr. Kimball had tried to make an analogy between the Canadian situation and one that existed in Hawaii where the U. S. Civil Aeronautics Board had opened a monopoly to competition in 1948.

Had Mr. Kimball ever been in Hawaii? No. Did he know the size of Hawaii? Yes, the seven islands stretched a distance equivalent to the distance between Montreal and Toronto.

Did Mr. Kimball know that two years after the CAB had granted Trans-Pacific Airlines a franchise to compete with the Hawaiian airlines monopoly, TPA came back and pleaded for a mail haulage subsidy? Yes, Mr. Kimball knew that.

Did Mr. Kimball know that in 1956, both lines would have shown a loss were it not for payment of a mail haulage subsidy? "Yes, they would have shown a loss," Mr. Edison told Mr. Kimball.

Sommers Jury Thorns Loom

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson, presiding at the Sommers bribery conspiracy trial, said today he plans to give the case to the jury in three parts.

He told counsel during a discussion of technicalities that his present plan is to give the jury the case first on the main count of conspiracy, which involves former Ian's and forests minister Robert Sommers, three timber executives and four companies accused.

Secondly, he said, he would ask the jury for a verdict on all of the substantive charges involving alleged donors of bribes and thirdly on all the substantive charges involving the alleged recipients of bribes.

Defence counsel Walter Owen, representing British Columbia Forest Products Limited and speaking for all six defence counsel, said the defence did not agree with this course.

Not was the defence satisfied with a proposal by the judge to supply the jury with copies of the indictment, including a "working paper" on which they would record their verdicts.

Mr. Owen said the proposition was an innovation in Canada "with no precedent in British jurisprudence."

"We feel," he said, "that this is not the type of trial where innovations can be made without the possibility of prejudice to the accused."

Mr. Justice Wilson said he merely proposed to supply the working paper because it was obvious there would be a great number of verdicts. But he would be alarmed if he thought that in doing this he was supplying the jury with a "terrible explosion."

NETTUNO, Italy (Reuters)—A British European Airways Viscount and an Italian jet fighter collided today, killing 30 persons aboard the airliner.

The collision of the four-engined turbo-prop Viscount and the Italian air force F-86 Sabre jet took place over this little fishing port 30 miles south of Rome.

Twenty six passengers and four crew were aboard the airliner. The Italian fighter pilot parachuted safely.

$50 Millions More Planned For Road

OTTAWA (CP)—Parliament will be asked at its next session to vote an additional sum—per-haps $40,000,000 to $50,000,000—for construction of the Trans-Canada Highway.

This would increase the federal government's share of the 4,470-mile coast-to-coast road network to some $300,000,000, compared with an expenditure of $250,000,000 now authorized under the Trans-Canada Highway Act.

Schools Probe Lauds Six B.C. Interior Briefs

CRANBROOK (CP)—The royal commission on education commented on the constructive nature of six separate briefs presented at its hearings here.

Commission chairman Dean S. N. F. Chant said three school boards, a Kimberley professional group, the Handicapped Children's Society and one individual could expect to read verbatim in the commission's final report much of the material they had submitted.

Ogopogo Observed By Saskatchewan Couple

Ogopogo still is cavorting in the somewhat chilly water of Okanagan Lake.

Four local residents and a visiting couple from Saskatchewan saw the famous lake monster Tuesday afternoon around 4 o'clock. He was visible for about five minutes about 100 yards from shore at the west end of Sutherland Avenue.

George Ward, 1422 Richter Street, said the humps could be clearly seen, although Ogo was swimming fairly low in the water.

Board Of Trade Delegates Here

Delegates from as far north as 100 Mile House are here today to attend the quarterly meeting of the Okanagan-Mainline Board of Trade.

The one-day parley opened at 10 a.m., with Trade Board President H. S. Harrison Smith officially welcoming representatives.

Resolutions were submitted by the various boards at the morning business session. At noon, delegates were guests of the Kelowna board at a luncheon in the Royal Anne Hotel. Ian Greenwood, acting manager of B.C. Fruit Processors Ltd., was guest speaker at the luncheon. Mr. Greenwood reviewed the progress made by the processing firm since it was taken over by the British Columbia Fruit Growers Association.

A 20-minute film, entitled "Temptation", dealing with the apple industry was also shown. The meeting will conclude into this afternoon after the final business session, at which time the various resolutions will be voted on.

Bennett Plans Short Holiday

VICTORIA (CP)—Premier Bennett said Tuesday he will take "a short vacation" at the beginning of next month.

"It has been a very busy year. The premier doesn't want to be tired when he makes decisions," he said.

He said he wanted to go some place where the weather is warm.

Suicide Mile Elimination Needed To Curtail Accidents

Last weekend another fatal accident occurred on "suicide mile" the stretch of Okanagan highway near Finn's Corner. Last Sunday morning a car coming south failed to make the corner marked by the checkerboard.

While admittedly all the accidents on this stretch of highway are not due to the highway itself, but rather to the carelessness of the drivers, this very fact does demonstrate that this section of the highway is a dangerous one.

The double right-angle turns where this particular accident occurred is a particularly dangerous corner and must be taken at speeds well below the normal speed limit. It is difficult to understand why, when a few years ago this section was resurfaced, it was not relocated and these two bad corners eliminated entirely. No matter how well marked, accidents will happen at these corners as long as cars are handled by people.

A few years ago there was some talk by highway department officials of taking the highway from the end of Harvey through the Pridham property and across Kelowna creek to the slope of the hill and running along the hill to the junction of the present highway at the north end of the present overhead railway bridge. This would have eliminated a number of bad corners on the present road, including that at Reid's Corner, the Vernon Road corners at the city limits and "suicide mile." In addition it would have taken the highway out of the heavily settled area by a short distance.

This plan would appear to have been abandoned as the abortive overhead bridge was built in the middle of a swamp area and has been left there to sit for the better part of two years. While it is true that the bridge has been built and money has been spent, perhaps it is not yet too late for the department of highways to take a second look at its plans for Highway 97 north of this city. There is an impression that the highway eventually is to be routed north through Glenmore but even if this is so, the present road must be maintained and in its present location it would still remain dangerous. If the department does not plan to build through Glenmore—and soon—it might well consider the relocation of the present highway along the slope of the hill.

Whatever plans the department may have, it is abundantly clear that some relocation on "suicide mile" is essential immediately. A small relocation project could eliminate several corners that have been accident scenes. The very minimum which should be undertaken is to complete elimination of the two right-angle corners, corners which should never be permitted on any first class highway. These corners are dangerous, very dangerous, and, despite driver carelessness, some of the responsibility for accidents must rest with the department of highways until they are removed.

More Attend University

A recent survey by the Canadian Press of college fees across the country presented some enlightening figures. The survey made plain that the days of annual tuition costing $125 and $25 a month for board have long since passed.

Today, tuition fees run all the way from $150 to $750 and in addition, some colleges advise out-of-town students to be prepared to spend up to $750 for board and $500 for expenses such as books and clothes. It is therefore calculated that the annual cost for a university student can run from $1,250 per annum for an arts course in the less expensive universities to $14,000 for a seven-year medical course.

Larger individual incomes and a willingness by parents to spend more on higher education for their children is indicated by the results of the survey. In the mid-thirties university enrollment in Canada was 35,000. This year the figure will be about 90,000. During the intervening period the country's total population has increased just more than one-half, so that it is evident the proportion of Canadians who are able to carry their schooling to the university level is much higher than ever before.

In this atomic age it is very necessary that a considerable percentage of the young people receive an education which will enable them to battle with and solve the problems the country must meet. We may expect to see a continued increase in the number of university students. In the interests of national development it is to be hoped there will be greater opportunities for bright young men and women who are not in a position to finance their own university education, to receive this training as the result of scholarships.

Paraphraphically Speaking

If the average person should think twice before speaking, he'd probably be too tired from the unaccustomed brain exercise to say anything.

We have no desire to see a man from Mars, but we'd be keenly interested in seeing a Martian woman.

Why not put filter tips on atomic bombs to trap the deadly radioactive particles?

"Bone comprises 43 per cent of the average person's head," says an anatomist. Who's surprised?

SCENE IN PASSING

BY "WAYFARER"

Like politicians, educators too can sound pretty silly at times. The president of the University of British Columbia, Dr. Norman McKenzie, reportedly was moved to say recently: "Canada seems to have adopted a defense policy of becoming a northern projection of the United States. We buy their weapons, we are trained and directed by them, and we provide their forces with bases and facilities."

This statement might be called a first class example of the half-truth except that in fact it deserves less than a fifty per cent rating for veracity! It is a distinct shock to read such words, coming as they do from one of Canada's leading men of letters. We all get irked now and then by an American policy action but obviously not one of Dr. McKenzie's accusations is even near the truth—and they certainly will not be appreciated by our neighbors and partners in defense.

It seems to us that too many of our prominent people have been engaged lately in the childish game of "Let's Kick Uncle Sam Around." Like most neighbors he isn't considered perfect by the people who live next door, but he's a whole lot better than the neighbors many other folks have!

As a car driver we know how difficult it can be at an intersection to get into a gap in the main traffic stream when waiting behind the pedestrian crossing. As a pedestrian however, we frequently cuss the drivers who block the crosswalk so we have to (a) go behind them (b) in front of them, or (c) wait until the car moves. Both the first two alternatives take us out of the protection of the safety zone, and the third calls for more patience than we can muster sometimes, so it's a Hobson's choice! If the driver backs up for us, then of course the problem is happily solved, but if another car is nudging him from behind, he can't—even if he wants to!

The mere male thinks it highly amusing if a woman says she has been shopping when she hasn't bought a thing. He forgets that he says he has been fishing even when he comes back empty handed.

It's getting easier to identify the high school crowd these days. Just stop, look, and listen for the transistor radios!

AND IN CONCLUSION: Community Chest contributions received from Kelowna citizens will be used in Kelowna to aid Kelowna citizens in time of need. There is no deadline for subscriptions to this great humanitarian cause.

Nuclear Energy Survey Being Made In England

By M. MCINTYRE HOOD

Special London (Eng.) Correspondent For The Daily Courier

LONDON — Top ranking officials and scientists engaged in Canada's program for development of nuclear power have started on a tour of the nuclear installations now operating and under construction in the United Kingdom.

Headed by Lorne Gray, chairman of Atomic Energy of Canada Limited, the Canadian party consists of James S. Duncan, chairman of Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario; Richard L. Hearn, director of Atomic Energy of Canada, Limited, and consultant to Ontario Hydro; H. A. Smith, deputy general manager of the Nuclear Power Plant Division of the AECL, and J. S. Foster, deputy general manager of the Nuclear Power Plant Division, AECL.

The visit by these Canadians has been arranged as part of the continuing program of collaboration between Canada and the United Kingdom in the exploration of nuclear energy for the production of electric power and other peaceful uses.

During the tour, the party is visiting the U.K. Atomic Energy Authority's industrial group headquarters at Risley, and four nuclear power stations now under construction at Hunterston, Bradwell, Berkeley, and Hinkley Point. They will also visit the Atomic Research Establishment at Harwell.

Discussions of problems concerning nuclear energy will be held with Sir Edwin Plowden, chairman, and other members of the U.K. Atomic Energy Authority, and Sir Christopher Hinton, chairman of the Central Electricity Generating Board.

ANOTHER PLAY THAT LOOKED GOOD ON THE BLACKBOARD

OTTAWA REPORT

Foreign Bias In Magazines

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

OTTAWA—I set off a controversy of wide interest by a comment I wrote in this space in August, when I returned from the United States. I reported that during a visit of three weeks I had found practically no reference to Canadian affairs in American newspapers, magazines or broadcasts.

As an example, I mentioned a weekly magazine in these words: "One of the U.S. news magazines, named 'Time', maintains a staff of five full-time and several part-time reporters across Canada, so I hoped to read of Canada in that. But mention of Canadian affairs varied between nil and one scant column each week."

A representative of 'Time' wrote that I "had asserted that 'Time' in the U.S. carries very little news about Canada." So, "to set the record straight"—an arrogant bombast implying the smear that I had set the record crooked—he asserted that "in the first six months of this year there were 30 Canadian items totalling about 70 columns in the U.S. edition and the three overseas editions of 'Time'."

SHARP WELLAND READER

I had not referred to the first six months of the year, but to three weeks in July. I certainly did not refer to three overseas editions of which I had no knowledge, but to the edition which I had found on sale in the U.S. This attempt by 'Time' to twist the topic and to confuse the issue did not confuse Mr. James Adams, who wrote from Welland a long letter citing some relevant figures with vigorous Canadianism. He pointed out that, on its own showing, 'Time' contains a mere two per cent of Canadian news, which he described as "this miserable figure." And he added: "Furthermore, in the U.S. edition there are certainly not 70 columns per six months about Canada."

Welland's outspoken reader continued: "These inaccurate and misleading figures quoted by this representative are typical of the whole staff of 'Time'. He referred to 'Time's' 'blatant U.S. bias, which many Canadians deplored.' Finally, Mr. Adams deplored the 'reprehensible action' of the present Canadian government in removing the tax on this 'Fig Leaf' magazine which pours into this country from the south."

It is not derogatory to point out that a foreign magazine shows blatant foreign bias. We would expect a Canadian magazine to express similar preference for comment has drawn attention to the justified belief that Canadian readers would best be kept free of bias designed for—and inspired by—the requirements of any foreign country, be it U.S.A. or U.S.S.R., or elsewhere.

GOVERNMENT IN ERROR?

The present government shows a strange blind spot towards Canadian literature. This government prevents U.S. soft fruits being dumped in Canada to the detriment of our own fruit growers in the Okanagan and in the Niagara Peninsula. It stops U.S. shoes and mill-end textiles being dumped here to harm the manufacturers of Ontario and Quebec. It protects P.E.I.'s potatoes against unfair competition from the State of Maine. But it has removed the 20 per cent advertising tax on "Canadian editions" which dump the "mill-end" of U.S. magazines into Canada in unfair competition with our own magazines. That tax was imposed by the former Liberal Government expressly to assist our magazines.

The Toronto writer Pierre Berton recently commented on this damaging competition in a sarcastic column about "The curious case of 'Time' and John Diefenbaker." Since 'Time' started its have had to publish less frequently, and two are likely to be forced out of business within twelve months.

We are now fighting an uphill battle to preserve our own national personality. And to this end, we are pouring millions of our tax dollars into the Canada Council and similar cultural channels. Yet at the same time our government deplorably permits this dilution of our culture by foreign-produced "Canadian editions" of magazines.

FAREWELL TO THE "BIG 'O'"

The ensign is lowered at Esquimalt for the last time on board HMCS Ontario, the Royal Canadian Navy's west coast-based cruiser. After 13½ years in continuous commission, more than half a million miles steaming over world's oceans, ship is being declared surplus and will be put up for sale by government. Ship has trained several thousand officers and men of Royal Canadian Navy and she holds special place in affections of Canada's sailors. At paying-off ceremony Rear Admiral H. S. Rayner, flag officer, Pacific Coast, said, "As flag officer, Pacific Coast, I have always felt the 'Big O' would do well whatever she was asked to do." It was a fitting epitaph for a stout ship of Royal Canadian Navy. RCN Photo

City Urges Government Undertake Several Public Works Projects Now

Completion of Harvey Avenue reconstruction to bring it up to standard of that of Highway 97 which passes through the city, is being urged by council.

In a letter to Highway Minister P. A. Gagliardi, Mayor R. F. Parkinson this week asked that the provincial government include the necessary cost in its 1959 budget.

In addition the city is asking the government to acquire and develop a viewpoint on the west side of Okanagan Lake; completion of the Pridham Orchard cut-off as an extension of Harvey Avenue; removing ferry wharf piles and utilization of two of the docks for a ramp for loading and unloading pleasure boats.

Harvey Avenue from Abbott to Ethel Street was reconstructed earlier this year. There now remains about 800 feet of roadway to be completed with curbing, gutters, storm drains and paving.

WESTSIDE VIEWPOINT

Regarding the viewpoint on the west side of the lake, Mr. Parkinson pointed out that the highways department had tentatively approved the project in discussions with city council, board of trade and tourist council.

The completion of the Pridham Orchard cut-off would eliminate many sharp curves on Highway 97 and Finn's Corner.

Dealing with the removal of ferry piles, Mr. Parkinson wrote, "In this connection you will remember that the writer requested that all piles and superstructures be removed with the exception of the piles and dolphins on the extreme north berth immediately adjacent to the Kelowna Court House, as it is our intention to have the federal government extend the breakwater... this north berth would serve as the southern extremity of the Yacht Club basin."

Mr. Parkinson said the city hopes that in dismantling the steel and wood span joining the asphalt roadway to the ferry wharfs that at least one of the docks, and if possible two, be turned over to the city in order that they might be utilized for a ramp for loading and unloading pleasure boats in the Yacht Club basin.

Finally, Mr. Parkinson commended the government on its "wonderful co-operation... that existed between your department and the city... in the completion of Okanagan Lake bridge and the work made necessary by same to our City Park."

He continued: "While there was much criticism prior to the commencement of the bridge and also while it was under construction, now the great majority of our citizens realize that the bridge approach is excellent... that in reality no damage has been done to our City Park, but rather its beauty has been enhanced by the landscaping made possible through the co-operation of your department."

Lightning Rare For October But No Record

Most of the Okanagan was hit by Saturday's moderately violent thunderstorm, that was accompanied by heavy rain and some light hail.

The storm hit Kelowna at 4 p.m., moving up from a southerly direction. The same storm unleashed its fury at Revelstoke shortly after 6 p.m.

While such a storm is a rarity at this late season of the year, it is nothing new. One oldtimer recalled a similar storm occurred Nov. 26, 1941, more than a month later in the year than Saturday's onslaught.

Gusty winds that accompanied the storm whipped up fallen leaves like dust. A tree was bowled over on the Guisachan Road, knocking out power in a small area for several minutes.

CAPACITY AUDIENCE

Cossack Choir Gives Flawless Performance

By ALICE WINSBY

Velvet voiced and vigorous the renowned Don Cossack Choir evoked tumultuous applause from a keenly appreciative capacity audience last night in Kelowna's Empress Theatre.

Director General Platoff, with each singer's eye upon him drew melodic chords and cadences from his superbly trained group as a virtuoso plays a beloved instrument. In magnificent waves of sound, swelling and ebbing, the opening number compensated for a curtain which some 20 minutes late. This was due to the unfortunate habit of our town's polite audiences, some of whom saunter casually to seats long after a program's scheduled beginning.

The well-balanced program was sung entirely in Russian, with two notable exceptions. But such was the eloquence of the choral company, that translation would have been for the most part superfluous.

It was evident that each man was an artist in his own right, capable of such complete teamwork with his fellows that at times they seemed to sing with one throat. An example of this individual ability was the exquisite tenor voice which wove through ringing bell tones in the second number. This was followed by a perfect melding in an impassioned prayer to the Almighty.

In a lovely lullaby, tenor notes which seemed fantastically high were sheer melodic beauty. Next came a thrilling rendition of a familiar folk tune, which conjured up a vision of horsemen, spurred and fur-capped galloping over the vast plain.

A reverent rendition of an unusual prayer in which two voices only are repeated 75 times closed the first third of the program.

COLORFUL COSTUMES

Colorful costume changes are made by the group during the two intervals, and it was after these changes that the tired, almost tawdry background of Kelowna's only concert building was most apparent.

The second part of the program opened with a love song rendered with terrific gusto in the grand manner, featuring a rich tenor soloist of exceptional ability. Next the audience was treated to the first of several highly entertaining comic performances which were particularly clever.

A popular melody featuring another fine tenor soloist completely enthralled the listeners. The unaccompanied group produce their own sound effects with some very effective results.

In appreciation of their reception here by an audience which was obviously showing enjoyment, a spokesman for the touring vocalists announced an addition to the program, Sung in English, ringing tones reached the rafters as the stirring "As the Caissons Go Rolling Along" proved a very popular insertion.

A young baritone received particular applause for his masterful rendition of a Cossack war-song. In the same mood was an enchanting number which featured two dancers who performed with notable precision and dexterity. Several comic numbers featuring marvelous "mugging" and jovial interplay between performers was cleverly done.

An outstanding piece simulating the strumming of guitars met with particular favor as did the solo work of an exceptionally low-ranged basso.

Climaxing an evening which was well rounded and especially melodic, the Don Cossacks closed with a moving rendition of "God Save the Queen" in English that seemed matchless in its perfection.

Come again Cossacks.

KIDS GET SET FOR SEASON

"No, no, not that," says "horrified" minor hockey exec, Emilie Bouchard, above, as two of the Pee Wees exercise a little freedom with the rules.

It's all in jest, though, and Barry Sigfusson, left, is one of the top stars of the local minor puck loop. He wouldn't think of giving Ricky Schmidt, right, another high-scoring minor puckster, such treatment. The boys are celebrating the opening of this season's minor play, which commences Saturday. (See schedule below.)

Minor Hockey Schedule Kicks Off On Saturday

The split ice sheet, originated last year by minor hockey officials for the Pups, will be used for some of the Pee Wee's games this year also.

The enthusiastic enrolment this year, with eight Pee Wee teams booked for play, necessitates use of the split sheet for the first games each Saturday. For the remaining Pee Wee ice time, the rink-dividers will be removed.

Here is the minor hockey schedule, prepared by the minor hockey executive committee:

Packers Stage Rally, V's Hold Off Attack

Hapless Leafs Still Winless In WIHL Play

ROSSLAND (CP)—Rossland Warriors scored three goals in the final period to defeat Ollie Dorohoy's Nelson Maple Leafs 6-3 in a Western International Hockey League game before 36 fans here Tuesday night.

The victory, Rossland's second in a row, boosted the Warriors to the top of the league standings with four points. Nelson has dropped both its starts so far in the young season.

Goalie Bill Margoreth, on loan from Trail Smoke Eaters, turned in another good performance for the Warriors, stopping 23 shots. The Leafs, also in search of a regular goalie, used intermediate Bill Freno, who was called on for 28 saves.

Bill Jones scored what turned out to be the winner for Rossland at 35 seconds of the third frame. He also had three assists.

Other scorers for Rossland were Alan Lloyd, Roy Demore with two, Wiggy Davis and Bud Andrews. Andy Drobot, Bill Taylor and Mike Maglio scored for Nelson.

Rookie Boxer Rates As Tops

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Unbeaten Denny Moyer scored his 17th professional victory Tuesday night by battering former welterweight boxing champion Johnny Saxton for a 10-round decision.

The brilliant young fighter belted Saxton to the canvas for a nine-count in the final round. Moyer, from Portland, weighed 149 pounds. Saxton, a New Yorker went into the ring at 150.

This week's evenings have been tough on Packers, so far.

Last night in Penticton, the western Canadian champions were outplayed for two periods of hockey and snapped off in their third-period rally by a determined V's club, who racked up their second league victory by a 6-4 score, shunting the Packers into a tie for top spot with Vernon.

Paced by the veteran red-head, Lorne Nadeau, the V's skated for the full 60 minutes, dealt some stiff checks and looked like much-improved hockey club over their last appearance against Kel-

A shot in the arm to the V's rearguard, in the form of Kevin "Crusher" Conway, proved to be a stumbling block to many of the Packers' attempts to score when they got rolling in the third frame.

Coming back from a 4-1 deficit, the Packers were swarming all over the V's and had the score at 5-4 when rookie Ed Johnson took advantage of a pass-out to sink the champs with his insurance marker, at 18:05 of the final frame.

Nadeau pumped in two for the V's, both of them in the sandwich session, and Johnson, Warren Hicks, Wendy Keller and Tic Beattie added the others.

Mike Durban, Moe Young, Jim Middleton and Gerry Goyer carried the Packers' cause with one epic.

The very slim crowd registered disapproval several times at instances of what appeared to be very inept refereeing by the game's officials, Don Culley of Kelowna and Harry Harris of Penticton, but the league referee-in-chief, Cliff Greyell of Penticton disagreed.

"I think they are calling a good game," he said, and expressed satisfaction at the way the officials are handling the league to date.

Keller's opening goal, an easy drive from just inside the blue line, occurred before all the fans were seated, and the home club never looked back. Beattie added another on a looping backhand at 11:22 and Young responded with a one-cushion bank shot off a V's defenceman, ending the period scoring.

A pair by Nadeau in the middle frame made the score 4-1, and the Packers came out with blood in their eye in the final. Durban opened the period scoring on a goal that he bulled in by sheer digging, but Hicks nullified it on a power play five minutes later.

A beautiful play by Greg Jablonski set centreman Goyer up for a hard shot that nicked in off

Zanier's glove and a minute later Middleton put the Packers right on the doorstep with a tricky shot between his legs in a scramble close in.

The Packers were a mile too eager to tie it up in the final minutes, and Johnson was left unattended long enough to sink the insurance marker, and the Packers' chances.

Canuck Uprising Defeats Chiefs

VERNON (CP)—Leading Vernon Canadians by three goals early in the final canto, Kamloops Chiefs looked set for their first Okanagan Senior Hockey League win Tuesday night but a tremendous fightback by Canadians saw four unanswered counters end in a thrilling 6-5 win for Vernon before 955 fans.

Vernon was paced by Odie Lowe and Jim Moro, each with two goals. Walt Trentini and Frank King got one each. Chief's marksmen were Larry Berg, Alf Cadman, Jerry Prince, Bill Hryciuk and Ken Harris.

Vernon led 2-1 after the first period on goals by Moro and Lowe. Berg's tally had earlier tied the game 1-1.

Chiefs shook Canucks with two quick counters in the middle session, both with a man short. Breakaway artists were Cadman and Prince.

Kamloops netted two more from Hryciuk and Harris, but Canucks fought back to tie the count on goals by Trentini, Moro and Lowe.

With just over a minute left, Frank King flicked coach George Agar's pass into the twine on a power play.

Chiefs' captain, Ted Leboda, took 20 minutes in penalties, including a 10-minute misconduct. Vernon outshot Kamlops 25-19.

Cougars Climb, Riots Rampant

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Saskatoon Quakers jumped into a four-point lead in the Western Hockey League prairie division Tuesday night while the surprising Victoria Cougars stretched their winning streak to three games in a coast division game that ended on a riotous note.

Cougars downed cellar-dwelling New Westminster Royals 7-3 in a fast, rugged game at Victoria.

The final minute of the game produced 50 minutes in penalties, two match penalties, four majors and one misconduct.

man George McAvoy was cut on the forehead by teammate Van Impe's stick.

Referee Vern Buffey gave match penalties to Hannigan and McLeod, major penalties to Van Impe, McAvoy, Jean - Marc Picard and Clare Wakshinski and a misconduct to Cougars' Al Nicholson, who came off the bench to help his teammates.

FIFTH WIN

Quakers defeated Calgary Stampeders 4-2 at Saskatoon for their fifth victory in six games and their fourth straight win on home ice. The loss left Calgary tied for second place with Edmonton Flyers, four points behind the Quakers.

Leo Lilley, Bob Chorley, Merv Kuryluk and Howie Milford tallied for the Quakers. Sid Finney and Bruce Len were the Calgary marksmen. All the scoring came in the second period.

Calgary carried an edge in the first period, but the Quakers were on top in the second and controlled play in the third. Calgary appeared to tire in the last period as Quakers turned on the speed and continually outplayed the Cowboys.

KEY STOPS

Both Roy Edwards and Lucien Dechene made key stops in the scoreless first period. Stamps outshot Quakers 10-4 but several of the shots on Dechene were from long range.

Calgary's Ed Dorohoy missed 10 minutes of the last period when he was given a misconduct penalty for back talk to referee Al Paradise.

The Victoria victory moved the Cougars into second place in the coast division, two points behind Seattle Totems.

Enlo Schlizzi and Stan Balkiuk each scored twice for the Cougars while George Ford, Gordie Haworth and Doug Macnealey got one goal apiece. Ron Matthews, Pat Hannigan and Dick Van Impe got the goals for the disorganized Royals, who couldn't keep pace with the scrappy Cougars.

It was the most impressive performance of the season for the Cougars.

ROUGH GAME

The game was rough. A small riot broke out in the final minute. Cougar defenceman Don McLeod was bowled over in front of his goal and caught Hannigan's stick across his back. Players piled in. Royal defence-

Prof Should Visit Valley To Watch Spectator-Types

By GEORGE INGLIS
(Courier Sports Editor)

This Dr. Edro Signori is quite a kick. A professor of psychology at UBC, the good doctor had himself quite a ball the other day, analyzing the fans at a football game between the B.C. Lions and the Edmonton Eskimos. Now this is nothing other than the same thing that promoters of various sports have been doing for years—usually at a profit—but it was refreshing and amusing the way the good prof did it.

However, we do think that he should pack up his satchel and take a wee trip up the Okanagan Valley, to have a look at four of the most widely divergent types of hockey spectators in any other 100 mile area in Canada. If the prof were to get one-half the amount of amusement from the various arenas that we have, he might settle down here and spend the rest of his observing days in quiet content.

He would be able to observe 'em all, from the pop-bottle wielding giant in the caulk boots and checkered shirt to the genteel old lady who can't see beyond the penalty box. They are to be found in the four arenas of the valley, well-mixed and bountiful, but the most curious part of it all is that they seem to run in pattern, according to the city concerned.

After covering a dozen or more games per year in each arena, often many more than that, the pattern of the fans falls into line automatically, and the proper precautions are taken as the subconscious mind registers the site of the game for the evening.

And here's how the mind reacts:

WHEN THE GAME IS PLAYED IN THE HUB CITY, up there where the frontier begins, caulked boots are an asset. Even if you don't want them for engaging in a brisk bout with some husky lumberjack, they come in mighty handy in clinging to the standing room portion without toppling over on the crowd below.

Then there is always suitable head gear to consider, since the rain of peanuts from the upper reaches turns to bottles and other hard objects on occasions. Not that the fans are deliberately brutal, it's just that they feel they can be much more demonstrative with some hardware in the discussion.

However, the Mainline City can be one of the best in the valley for support, like the second year that Ken McKenzie managed the hockey club there and the arena was packed pretty nearly every Saturday night with 2,000-plus hockey fans, hardware and all.

They live dangerously up there, but they live it to the full.

THE COSTUME FOR VERNON SHOULD INCLUDE earmuffs, not so much for warding off the cold as for guarding against the hail of suggestions and remedies from the host of second guessers that make up the crowd.

Unlike the Kamloops rosters, most of whom are unashamedly unaware of the finer points of the contest, the Vernon game have a host of retired hockey players and rink-side experts in the crowd who are not above leaning over the players' box and hissing admonitions in the coaches' ears, or hurling suggestions, some of them downright suggestive, at the players in their ice-level haven.

The city by the Lake of Many Colors, having been the only place with a rink for a dozen years or so, has bred a number of fans with considerable more experience in the game than the other three cities, and the two hours spent in the old arena with the recent face-lift can be an experience, and an education.

Since the experts are capable of being aroused on occasions, the costume should include a bright blue cap that can be donned quickly when the going gets tough.

THEY ARE RABID FANS in the Peach City, where they had a world champion hockey club before most of the fans knew what a blue line was, but they have no patience with a loser.

Some delightful incidents can occur in the home of the V's, but the spectators do well to be armed with a dictionary and modern slang, since the brisk repartee that leaps through the spectators is beautiful to listen to, but requires an agile mind to cope with.

A light chain mail vest can be helpful here, also, since some of the paying customers are liable to get peevish if their club is behind and they misinterpret your cheers for the old home club as jeers.

One of the classic incidents witnessed in the arena down south was that of an elderly woman, prim and proper in her costume, but violent in the abuse she was raining on the visiting hockey club, with very little conception of the course of the game.

So aroused did the frail female become at some badinage from the rear that she whirled and swung her walking-stick at the hecklers, almost decapitating them and shattering her appendage to locomotion at the same time.

They're the rookies, but they don't come any more enthusiastic, than down in Veeville.

THE BREATHLESS HUSH, described in the poem, "Vital Lampada," is a way of life for the fans in Kelowna, known as the Orchard City because of the amount of green stuff, well invested, growing within the city limits.

Often termed a "second Victoria," the city is peopled largely with retired folk, many of them from the prairies, and many of them rabid fans in their younger days. But the staid atmosphere of the Kelownian spreads over them like a blanket when they come to the city, and the enthusiasm is tempered with restraint, i.e. no pop bottles.

Rallying their heroes with genteel cries of "bully" and "stout fellow," they reflect such quiet good taste that they envelop the rowdy visiting fans in an aura of reflective silence. The equipment for this arena is a sound-proof booth, where the enthusiastic fan may holier to his heart's content without disturbing his neighbors.

All jesting aside, however, the Okanagan fans, each in his individual way, present a solid front of enthusiasm that represents a far greater percentage of the population than most other places in Canada. If this were not so, it would be impossible to run senior "A" hockey clubs in communities of this size.

And the beautiful part of it is that hockey provides the inhabitants of the four cities with a common denominator, even if they do slice it differently.

And it doesn't take a prof to prove it.

Brown Carving History As Great NFL Rusher

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Statistics are proving what many opposing football players already accept as fact—that Jim Brown may be the greatest rusher in the history of the National Football League.

Official NFL figures released today show the bruising fullback of the eastern division - leading Cleveland Browns is well on his way to setting a rushing record for one season and also has a good shot at a scoring record.

SIX-YARD AVERAGE
The former Syracuse star has accounted for 635 yards on 94 running attempts in the Browns' four winning efforts this year. That figures out to a 6.8 yards per carry and a game average of almost 159 yards. The game figure is about 64 yards more than Steve Van Buren averaged when he set the present NFL league rushing record with 1,146 yards for Philadelphia Eagles in 1949.

Another big reason for the Browns' success is rookie Bob Mitchell whose season total of 370 yards rushing is second best in the league. Mitchell has averaged 8.8 yards for each of his 42 runs. Tom Wilson of Los Angeles is a distant third with 302 yards by running.

LEBARON TOPS
Eddie Lebaron of Washington Redskins, John Brodie of San Francisco and John Unitas of Baltimore continue to head the passers. Lebaron has the best average gain per pass attempt, 9.70 yards. Brodie has the best completion average, 58.8 per cent in 68 attempts. Unitas' passing has accounted for the most yards, 907.

Brown heads the scoring parade with 10 touchdowns for 60 points in four games. The league record for TDs in one season is 18 in 10 games by Van Buren. Willie Galimore of Chicago Bears has 42 points for second place.

Ray Berry of the Colts has caught the most passes in the 1958 season, 23 good for 361 yards, but Del Shofner of Los Angeles Rams has gained the most yards, 424 in 19 catches.

Ivy's Skull Work Crisp and Classy

CHICAGO (AP) — This is the year of varied formations and Chicago Cardinals are adding spice to the already hopped-up National Football League.

Coach Frank (Pop) Ivy, who took over this season after winning the Grey Cup three times in four years with Edmonton Eskimos in Canada, has introduced the double wing - T and triple wing-T in the pro loop.

His success is a matter of record. Cardinals are tied for second place in the eastern division and lead the entire league in total offense. They have lost two of their four games only because of failures on defense.

CANADIAN CAPERS
Ivy's innovations are hand-me-downs from Canadian football. These wing formations enable a team to exploit the passing game no end as attested by the Cardinal record of 63 completions in 119 attempts for 1,023 yards and eight touchdowns.

"We may sacrifice a little straight power," says Ivy, "but we also have four or five men to pass to quickly. Also our backs are close enough so that they can take the ball and run with it."

In the double wing-T, Cardinals split their ends as wide as desired. The quarterback and full-back remain in regular T-formation positions. The two halfbacks, however, are a yard behind the line of scrimmage and directly behind or a step outside the tackles.

CATCH OR BLOCK
This gives the halfbacks an advantage of several yards if they are used as pass receivers. Also, they can pull back and block for the passer.

In the triple wing-T, there is only one difference. The fullback leaves his regular position and moves in between the split end and the halfback. This way the fullback has five pass receivers who can move into the secondary quickly.

"It's a tough system to use," says Ivy, "because split-second timing is required. It has been a lot of hard work but I think we're getting the idea now."

Maybe others will too. Rival coaches are praising the system which is proving to be a real crowd pleaser.

Edmonton Battler Seeks Eighth Win

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (CP)—Will Greaves of Edmonton, Canada's middleweight boxing champion, seeks his eighth straight victory of the year tonight in a 10-round bout with Bill Tuck of Louisville.

Greaves has won 23, lost nine and tied once. Tuck has a 28-4 record and will be the underdog. He has won his last five.

Greaves is expected to weigh 161, Tuck 156.

Local Lawn Bowling Club Ends Season

The Kelowna Lawn Bowling Club wound up their season last week, crowning a new triples championship at the same time. Bert Bostock skipped his rink of Charlie Hubbard and Mrs. Tom Moryson to the mixed event win, beating out Bill Moss's team in the finals.

Moss skipped, with Mrs. Moss and Claude Wilcox composing his team.

This season was one of the most successful in the history of the club.

Entries Heavy For Bonspiel In Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP) — Official entries of 178 rinks from Western Canada have been received here for the Totem Bonspiel to be held Grey Cup week—Nov. 23 to 28.

Heading the list of 80 entries from outside the Vancouver area is the Matt Baldwin rink from Edmonton, last year's national champions. There are 13 other rinks entered from Alberta.

Saskatchewan and Manitoba are also represented in the entry list.

One of the most famous names in hockey a couple of decades ago was that of Baldy Northcott. His Winnipeg rink is among the Manitoba group that also includes the Al Derrett rink.

One entry is contingent upon the Saskatchewan Roughriders not being in the Grey Cup. Roughrider Bill Clark says he will have a rink in the Totem providing he is not playing football. Saskatchewan still has a chance to make the WIFU finals.

The B. C. curling champions, the Tony Gutoski Rink of Victoria has entered.

PRACTISING FOR DAY WHEN ENEMY IS IN SKY

A game of hide and seek is played high in the clouds over Florida. The principals are a Firebee drone, unmanned and gunless, left, which is the target for the Falcon guided missiles of the supersonic F-102 fighter plane, right. The Firebee is no sitting duck in this serious manoeuvre. It can turn, weave and fly as fast as most planes in the air, and on top of that can record near misses in Falcon attacks. Theoretically, if the F-102 fighter plane pilot misses in his first salvo, the Firebee wins the air battle.

MOTOR SHOW OPENS

British Automobile Manufacturers Make Bid To Expand World Market

LONDON (CP) — There are big fin - tail cars from the United States, pointed - nose entries from Italy, pointed - nose entries from France, and a long list of more conventional lines from Holland, Germany, Sweden and Czechoslovakia.

They're all on display in the London Motor Show of 1958 models which opened Tuesday.

There is nothing radical about changes in the home - spun stars of the show — the British autos. They remain distinctly British. To help boost Britain's export of cars, already running at an all-time high, the Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders, sponsors of the show, has sent 65,000 invitations to prospective buyers overseas.

THE CHANGES

Salesmen and company officials stood beside their new models, eagerly telling everyone about the "great new changes" to be found in the vehicles. These range from more streamlined bodies to a new type of oil dipstick that is easier to read.

A reporter suggested to a representative of the Rootes firm that the loud color combinations displayed seemed like a take-off on American cars.

"Exactly," he replied. "We started this last year and our sales in Canada alone increased by 25 per cent."

An expected 300,000 people will go through the turnstiles, paying from £1 to 2s 6d to see this collection. Besides cars, they will see about 80 different types of trailers — some equipped with television — and an equally impressive line of boats.

This 10-day show is being held as British car makers point proudly to an impressive set of figures. They now hold 30 per cent of the world market and the 250,000 vehicles they exported during the first six months of this year was an all-time record.

The previous six-month record was in 1955 when 210,000 were shipped.

"About three or four per cent" of exported vehicles go to Canada, a show official said.

Boxing goes slightly black tie to night when Gaspar Ortega of Tijuana, Mex., and Don Jordan of Los Angeles meet in a 12-round rematch. The winner is set for a title fight against world welterweight champion Virgil Akins.

The setting will be the grand ballroom of the Lafayette Hotel, where in July beauties gathered for the Miss Universe contest.

Black ties and stiff shirts are not mandatory but about 1,000 socialites figure to be on hand. They will pay $25 for the fight and dinner. The bout will be televised starting at 7 p. m. MST.

Jordan scored a decision over Ortega Sept. 17 and in July attracted attention when he beat ranking welterweight Isaac Logart of Cuba. He fights as a lightweight and a welterweight.

The ratings are confusing. Ring magazine has Ortega No. 3 as a welterweight and Jordan No. 1. The National Boxing Association ranks Jordan No. 2 lightweight but doesn't rate him as a welterweight. Both fighters are 23.

Local Bowlers Organize, Seek Outside Meets

Formation of the Kelowna 5-Pin Bowling Association was announced today by president-elect Morio Koga.

The association, first formed at a general meeting held Monday at the Bowldrome, is at present working to organize teams for the annual competition within the parent Western Canada Association.

With this step, Kelowna now joins Penticton and Kamloops who have been in the western conference for some years.

Details of team trials and eliminations were discussed and passed on. The trials will be held before November 15, 1958 and selection of players will be made from present Kelowna leagues according to highest averages reached by members in league play.

To assist in the association's initial fund-raising memberships will be made available at a nominal cost. Directors expect a good response, according to secretary-treasurer Ted Burnell.

Flush U.S. Colt Late Scratch

TORONTO (CP) — Ontario Jockey Club officials announced today that American - owned Inside Tract has been withdrawn from Saturday's running of the $50,000 Canadian Championship.

Inside Tract's withdrawal leaves 12 probable starters in the race at New Woodbine.

Trainer Jack Weipert had advised OJC officials last Saturday that the four-year-old colt would be shipped to Toronto. However, after Inside Tract won the $75,000 Jockey Club Gold Cup at Belmont Saturday, Weipert made plane reservations for a trip to Ireland where he plans to buy another horse.

Manhattan Gets Design For Billion-Dollar Facelifting

NEW YORK (AP) — A billion-dollar facelifting plan for lower Manhattan, New York's oldest section, has been presented to the city fathers.

If adopted, the rehabilitation program would bring drastic changes along both sides of Manhattan's triangular tip, now dominated by the skyscrapers of the financial district.

It calls for razing of most of the outmoded structures that cluster along the East and Hudson rivers among the modern spires. Many of the narrow old streets—once cowpaths trod by Dutch lands and maidens—would be closed and supplanted by industrial buildings and residential apartment projects.

Other streets would be widened to make a belt traffic loop around the district. Some East River piers, obsolete and largely unused, would give way to a hell-port and marina for small boats. The Fulton fish market along the East River and the Washington wholesale fruit and vegetable market on the other side of the island would disappear.

During business hours this downtown district has a working population of 400,000. At night it is almost deserted. Only 4,000 persons actually live there, and they are mostly in old dwellings dating back 100 years or more.

The plans call for completion of the changeover by 1970.

The reason the old buildings are not still older is that great fires swept the infant city in 1776, 1778 and again in 1835. Few buildings date back farther than the 1835 fire.

For 300 years leather merchants have conducted their trade south of Brooklyn Bridge in a district known as The Swamp. Soon they must move elsewhere.

Likewise, doomed are little centres of odd crafts professions — coffee roasting, ship chandlery, spice dealing — that still can be found in the twisting alleys and narrow streets.

PREPARING FOR PAPAL SUCCESSION

Pontifical jewellers in Rome display this collection of crosses in gold and precious stones which are to be worn by the cardinals of the Sacred college in view of the forthcoming ceremonies when the new pope will be elected.

Papal Hatter A. Berblond puts finishing touches to the hat he just made for the new pontiff to be elected during the forthcoming conclave. Unlike the case of dresses of which three sizes are made, only one size of hat is prepared for the pope to be.

DE GAULLE TIGHTENS HIS GRIP

Arriving back in Paris after a visit to Algeria French Premier Charles de Gaulle is greeted by Lt.-Col. Avenard. On his trip to Algeria, De Gaulle proved his complete control of the army factions that were responsible for his rise to power.

TWO SEE WOMAN SHOT TO DEATH

company him further, fired at close range. The two witnesses, Mrs. Fanny Watson and David Cox, grappled with the gunman but were unable to hold him. Police later found the dead woman's husband, left, a Great Lakes seaman, dead in a grain elevator. He committed suicide.

In a gravel pit near Goderich, Ont., Mrs. Kenneth Dickinson, right, was killed by a shot in the abdomen while two bystanders watched. She had arrived at the pit arguing with a shotgun-carrying man who first threatened to shoot her, then when she refused to acc-

ONE-MAN CAMPAIGN AGAINST SUMMONS

In Thorold township, Ont., Earl Tapp believes he has a complaint against community authorities and is using his relevance by picketing the township office. He has a home on a three-acre site burned down, he moved a summer cottage to the spot and proceeded to add sections to it. Neighbors complained to the township council. Mr. Tapp was summonsed. But he says he was given permission to build on the land and doesn't intend to take the summons without a protest.

TEMPORARY RESTING PLACE FOR POPE

The white marble unadorned sarcophagus of Pope Pius XII lies in a round niche in the catacomb-like grottoes underneath St. Peter's Basilica in Rome. The niche is a temporary resting place. In about a year the coffin is to be placed near the bones of St. Peter in a permanently sealed grotto.

U.S. Air Force Plans Animal Test In Space

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Air Force has plans to place a "small animal" into an orbit around the earth—but not until there's a good chance of bringing it back alive.

The animal would be in a space capsule equipped to radio back to earth information on the animal's performance and physiological condition.

Old Canoes Accepted By Museum

OTTAWA (CP)—Two old birch bark canoes and a group of early Canadian farm implements have been accepted by the National Museum of Canada. Both are from Quebec.

The 16-foot canoes are believed to have been used 150 years ago on the St. Lawrence River. They were the property of Capt. Thomas Nairne, killed in the war of 1812 and the second British seigneur of Murray Bay, below Quebec City.

They were presented to the museum by Mrs. J. Archibald Gray of Murray Bay and her son, W. E. Duggan Gray of Vancouver.

The farm implements—a hand-made iron shovel, a sheet-iron stove, two hand-made pulleys and a buckboard buggy—are from Richard Ray of Ottawa. They were used on the farm of Mr. Ray's father, the late Col. Walter Ray, at Les Eboulements, Que.

INSTRUMENTS FOR POPE'S ELECTION

Here are some of the voting tools used during the election of a new Pope. Left is a box containing white and black balls. Each cardinal takes a ball and introduces his hand in the instrument in centre and drops the ball in the first or second well. The secrecy of the operation is guaranteed by a long black cloth covering the cardinal's arm. Plates on right are used to carry the voting "bigliettos" in final balloting.

WORLD BRIEFS

SHORTS BRIGADE

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP)—The move toward wearing tropical dress for business in summer is progressing here. Government officials have been given permission to wear open-necked shirts and shorts to the office if they wish.

ISRAELI THEATRE

JERUSALEM (AP)—The Israeli cabinet has made the Hebrew theatre Habimah the national theatre of Israel. The decision gives the group an annual government grant of about $60,000.

SAILORS HELP

PORT AU PRINCE (AP)—Haiti's blood bank received a big boost when the aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt docked here. Sailors on shore leave made many donations of blood.

BIG TANKER

ALBLASSERDAM, Netherlands (AP)—The 33,000-ton tanker President Jussieu, launched in this port near Rotterdam, will be the biggest vessel in Brazil's merchant fleet. She is the first of seven being built for a Rio de Janeiro concern.

OIL FOR CHINA

TOKYO (AP)—Red China's first modern oil refinery has started producing kerosene, diesel oil and gasoline, the New China news agency reports. The Russian-equipped refinery is at Lanchow, 450 miles southeast of the Yumen oil producing region.

OFF TO BRAZIL

KOBE (AP)—A Japanese ship is en route to Brazil with 516 emigrants from Japan. They plan to settle near Manaus City, 650 miles up the Amazon River. Brazil already has a big Japanese colony.

BIG NUGGET

MOSCOW (AP)—A gold nugget weighing 14.11 pounds is reported by the newspaper Soviet Russia to have been found in a Siberian mine at Botoibol.

TOUGH JELLYFISH

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (CP)—Harbor board officials here spotted a giant jellyfish holding a three-foot-long barracuda firmly enmeshed in its long tentacles. Scientists said they had never before heard of a jellyfish capturing such a large prize.

CROWDED SCHOOLS

PARIS (Reuters)—A record registration of 8,567,000 pupils has filled schools in France to the bursting point. Officials, who said France lacks about 8,000 qualified teachers, said the high birth rate following the Second World War is the reason for the increase.

BANS STRIPPERS

ATHENS (Reuters)—The national government has banned strip-tease shows in Greece as being "contrary to Greek customs and morals." The order followed an "alarming increase" of such performances in Athens night clubs.

KANGAROOS HAZARD

BIRSEBANE, Australia (Reuters)—Kangaroos have to be chased off the runway at Charlesville airport in Queensland before airplanes can land. Officials explained that due to drought the airport is the only spot in the district with grass.

MONSTER STURGEON

MOSCOW (AP)—Tass, the Russian news agency, came up with this fish story: A Caspian Sea fisherman using a nylon net bagged a white sturgeon more than 13 feet long, weighing 1,817 pounds.

DIED IN CRASH

TOKYO (AP)—Communist China said today three Moroccan students were among 65 passengers who died in the crash of a Soviet TU-104 jet airliner 400 miles east of Moscow last Friday. Radio Peiping named the Moroccan students and said they were returning from China after attending the fifth congress of the International Union of Students.

HAD WRONG IDEA

MOSCOW (Reuters)—A Soviet scientist says Albert Einstein's theory of relativity has been misinterpreted in the Soviet Union. Prof. Alexander Alexandrov of the Soviet Academy of Sciences told a conference Tuesday that Soviet scientists had made "mistakes" about it. Under Stalin, Einstein's theory was treated as an expression of idealistic philosophy and its author condemned.

BIG ORDER

JAKARTA (AP)—Indonesia is buying nearly $10,000,000 worth of tractors and farm tools from Czechoslovakia under an agreement just signed here.

SPECIAL SHOW

TRENT, Italy (AP)—The first international exhibition of Himalayan mountain-climbing equipment opened here included equipment displayed by Austria, West Germany, France, Britain, India, Japan, Switzerland and Italy.

SMOOTHER RIDE

LONDON (Reuters)—British railroads are to use longer lengths of rail on main lines for smoother, quieter travel. Long rails made by welding 60-foot lengths to form continuous strips of a quarter-mile or more eliminate the familiar clackety-clack of the wheels.

DRINK PROBLEM

BUDAPEST (Reuters)—Alcoholism is still a major problem in Communist Hungary despite strong official measures to combat it. Alcoholics make up 30 per cent of patients in nerve clinics and mental hospitals, according to official statistics.

MOTHER'S RING

LONDON (Reuters)—A third ring to celebrate motherhood—an old jewelry custom—is being revived in Britain. Jewellers report more and more husbands buying gifts as a ring which their wives can wear with their engagement and wedding rings to denote motherhood.

SALVAGE PROJECT

TOKYO (AP)—A Japanese salvage team will leave for Ceylon in December to refloat a British Navy floating dock sunk in Trincomalee harbor in 1943. A 250-ton salvage boat and about 100 workers will be engaged.

GRIM REMINDER

PRAGUE (AP)—The Czechoslovak news agency reports the ashes of more than 3,000 victims of the Nazis, discovered in northwest Czechoslovakia last spring, have been buried at the national cemetery of Terezin, site of a former Nazi concentration camp. Victims included French, Russian, Yugoslav and Polish prisoners slain by their captors.

ACTRESS ILL

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Barbara Stanwyck, suffering a severe congestion of fluid in her lungs, entered hospital Tuesday for observation and treatment to prevent pneumonia.

FUN IN THE NEWS

GREEN HAVEN, Md. (AP)—The ladies auxiliary of the Green Haven Volunteer Fire Department wants to do more than cook dinners and bake cakes to raise money for their firefighting husbands.

The gals are learning to handle the fire hose.

They have had seven basic lessons, and Sunday they'll get a chance to put out a blaze on the training grounds at the University of Maryland.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The people building a housing project near Dayton wanted to know why their construction men appeared drunk while working.

Today they got their answer.

Deputy Sheriff Robert Mann and Constable Charles Wilson posed as workers. Some of the boys, during a break in work, walked over to a mobile canteen selling sandwiches and coffee. The two officers went along.

They discovered the canteen salesman also was dispensing liquid refreshment of the alcoholic variety.

The salesman, Ernest L. Sheets, 43, was jailed on a charge of selling liquor without a licence.

KLagenfurt, Austria (Reuters)—A swallow that missed last month's annual migration flight to warmer regions left here today bound for the south-by train.

The bird was found on the roof of a house in danger of freezing to death. It was handed over to a local policeman who took it to the railway station, where it was put on the first train for Rome.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Her husband made their French poodle stand on his hind legs in a corner for 15 minutes at a time as punishment, Mrs. Shirley Kaplan, seeking a divorce, testified.

She complained that George Kaplan was mentally cruel to her and physically cruel to the dog.

Judge Frederick F. Houser, himself a poodle owner, said he was skeptical of the length of time the Kaplans' dog spent on his hind legs but granted the divorce.

Australia Looks To Far East For Trade To Boost Exports

MELBOURNE (Reuters)—Australia is looking to the Far East, including Communist China, for trade to bolster its faltering export income.

Long content to rely on traditional markets and soaring wool prices, it has come as a blow to many Australians to learn that new markets must be found for the country's goods if the high living standards of post-war years are to be maintained.

For years, seemingly sound trade treaties and fat wool cheques have drowned warning whispers of doubt from leading economists.

This season's lower wool prices and warnings of drops in earnings of primary products made little impact on the public. It was a shock when exporters and trade authorities said recent announcements by Britain and the United States would drastically affect Australia.

BLAST ANGLO-AMERICANS

The Sydney Sun's financial editor, Ray Melrose, strongly criticized what he called the "selfish American and British policies which threaten to bring disaster to Australia's export trade."

A drive to find new markets is gaining momentum. Twelve Australian businessmen will sail for the Far East later this month aboard the Swedish motor vessel Delos. This "Australian trade mission ship," organized and financed by the Australian Export ports Federation, will make a sales promotion tour of the Far East.

Australia also has eyes on the South American market. Recent sales of coal to that country have whetted the appetite of Australian industrialists. A mission is expected to go there soon.

TAKE THIS SPECIAL LOW COST TOUR to the ROYAL WINTER FAIR

Visit the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair, Toronto, November 14th to 22nd — and travel by Canadian Pacific Railway's special low cost (semi-all-expense) tour! Besides Transportation to and from Toronto, many side trips are included in the one low fare. For instance...

- You'll visit two model farms near Toronto.
- Enjoy a sightseeing drive through the city.
- See famous Casa Loma (Canada's only castle!).
- Visit the Royal Ontario Museum and the Toronto Art Gallery.
- Drive to Niagara Falls — and lunch in the Sheraton-Brock Hotel's Rainbow Room.

And there's an interesting optional trip to the Ontario Agricultural and Veterinary College in Guelph!

THE SHOW YOU MUSTN'T MISS!

As for the "Royal" itself... this is the show of the year! Besides having a season ticket, and a reserved seat at the Horse Show, you'll see Canada's prize livestock, fruit and vegetable displays, the cattle auctions, fashion shows, farm equipment... a hundred and one things of real interest! Your fare for the trip includes comfortable hotel accommodation. Ask your Canadian Pacific Agent for a detailed brochure — and have him complete arrangements for your trip!

The bidding:

South West North East

1NT Pass 3NT Pass

Opening lead—six of spades.

In one of the hands our team played against the Argentines in the world championship match in Italy earlier this year, I made an unusual play that turned out fortunately for us.

It was certainly not a difficult play to make, but it was the kind of play anyone who tends to play mechanically would be apt to miss.

I held the East hand. Three no-trump was quickly reached and my partner, Sidney Silodor, opened a spade.

Declarer played low from dummy and I took the ten. Then all there was to it South won with the queen and led a club which I took with the ace.

The king of spades return forced dummy's ace and at the same time established Silodor's spade suit. When declarer eventually got around to leading hearts, I grabbed the ace at once, led a spade, and down one went declarer.

At the other table, on similar bidding, the same contract was reached and the same opening lead was made. But the Argentine East won the spade lead with the king and returned the ten.

He also got in with the club ace immediately and led back a spade. Declarer won with the queen. West's spade suit was by now established, but this time, since he had no entry to cash his spades, the contract was made.

The ten of spades is clearly the right play at trick one. With dummy showing 11 points, and 12 in view in my hand, only 17 points were left to account for South's no-trump bid. The Argentines were playing 16 to 18 point no-trump bids.

Silodor therefore could have one point in his hand, and according to the Rule of Eleven, it had to be the jack of spades.

Declarer could have countered my thrust had he ducked the spade ten. But he had no way of knowing I had the jack of spades. Besides, it never occurred to him to deliberately hold himself to one spade trick when he had two in plain sight.

requiring initiative, imagination and vigorous action. Natives of Scorpio, as with Libras, will then be in a planetary cycle which promises much in the way of job and financial progress, but you will, of course, have to take advantage of all opportunities; also be willing to assume greater responsibilities.

Some good news late in December should help you get off to a good start in 1959 and, from there on you should have smooth sailing for several months. Personal relationships are under good influences, but do be careful of antagonizing others in March. Avoid extravagance during that same month, and look for a possible opportunity to travel between next May and August.

A child born on this day will be endowed with great determination and a keenly analytical mind, but may be too exacting of others.

HEALTH COLUMN

Heat Applications Aid Rheumatoid Arthritis

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Physical therapy is an important adjunct to medical treatment of rheumatoid arthritis. But to be effective, physical therapy must be carried out daily, or as frequently as directed by the physician who ordered it.

Too many patients begin such treatment in their own homes with perfectly good intentions, then gradually forget about it.

HEAT RECOMMENDED

Heat, as I have previously explained, helps relax the muscles and soothes painful joints. Most doctors, I am sure, would recommend it for patients with rheumatoid arthritis.

While I cannot prescribe for individual cases, of course, I think it advisable for all of you who have a victim of this disease in the home to know how to apply heat.

I'll discuss some of the various methods of doing this, but I want to emphasize that of the 56 them should be employed without specific instructions from your physician. If and when he does order it, maybe the following instructions will make it a little easier for you to apply.

HOT PACKS EFFECTIVE

Hot packs are a relatively simple and effective way of heating just about any portion of the body. Woolen cloths probably are best. Soak them thoroughly in water heated to about 120 degrees and then wring them out. Permit them to remain over the affected joints for 10 minutes or so, and then dunk them again. You can use hot packs once or twice a day from half an hour to 45 minutes each time.

Contrast baths are useful for stricken hands or feet. Heat some water until it is about 110 degrees. Beside the pot or pan containing this water, place another holding cold water of about 65 degrees.

HOT AND COLD

Plunge hands or feet into the hot water and hold them there for 10 minutes. Then place them in the cold water for one minute. Next, whisk them back to the hot water again, for four minutes this time. And then back to the cold water for one minute again.

You can keep up this alternating procedure for half an hour, but always remember to end it with your hands in the hot water. If the water is too hot or too cold for comfort, you can cool or warm it a bit.

This contrast bath can be performed once or twice a day.

QUESTIO NANS ANSWER

L.B. What foods can a diabetic eat?

A. A diabetic diet varies in kind and amount with each patient.

In general, the daily diet should include a generous supply of vegetables, an egg, a dish of cereal, fruit, a pint or more of milk, a moderate amount of meat, fish, or cheese, slice of bread and a little butter.

The doctor fits the diet to the individual patient.

Gary Cooper Thinks Horse Mighty Dumb

ST. GEORGE, Utah (AP)

"The horse is a highly overrated animal. They're dumb as hell, and you can't trust them one bit."

Heresy, you say? Perhaps, but our authority is none other than Gary Cooper, one of the few stars with an authentic western background.

The Montanan gazed up at the red bluffs of this southern Utah wilderness and reflected: "When I was 14 or 15, I used to ride alone for days through country like this." One thing he learned: Never trust a horse.

Ole Coop is back in the saddle again. After two middling films, Love in the Afternoon and 10 North Frederick, he has done three horseback pictures in a row.

FILMING ONE NOW

His latest, They Came to Cordura, is being filmed here. Technically it's not a western, but there are plenty of horses. Producer William Goetz assembled 300 horses and riders to recreate the last U.S. cavalry charge during General Pershing's invasion of Mexico in 1916. The rest of the picture largely concerns the trek of Cooper and five others across the Mexican wasteland.

How does it feel to be back on a horse?

"It hurts," Cooper confessed. He explained: "It's painful for me to be in the saddle too long."

Not, it's not because of an injury I got from a horse. When I was getting started in pictures, I used to take horse falls for $15 a fall and I never had a scratch.

"But I did a lot of sking after the war, and that's what banged me up."

REVEALS PLAN

Newcomers might find profit in a credo that might help explain Cooper's amazing three decades as a star: "I always made it a point to do at least one western every two years. In years when I did four pictures, usually one of them would be a western."

Doing his last three outdoor epics in a row was more or less an accident, he said. But he admitted that his two previous films were not entirely successful. His analysis:

Love in the afternoon—"It did great in Europe and well in the big cities here, but not so well in the smaller towns. In Sabrina with Humphrey Bogart, Audrey Hepburn started as a young girl and matured. But in our picture she started as 17 and ended as 17. And I don't look any older than 90 but seldom younger than 85."

10 North Frederick—"The script was good, but they made it too cheaply. They just threw up sets and shot it fast in black and white. They should have gone to a real town and given it quality and color."

Federal Bonds Drive Nets $6 Billion Total

OTTAWA (CP)—More than 90 per cent of the outstanding Victory Loan bonds—totaling $6,416,000,000—were exchanged for Canada Conversion bonds, the federal finance department reported today.

Preliminary figures, which the department said are subject to minor revisions, showed that $5,803,000,000 worth of Second World War Victory bonds were converted at Oct. 14.

The Canada Conversion Loan, which provided bonds with longer terms and higher interest rates than the Victory issues, closed Sept. 15.

Late returns showed 90.4 per cent of the Victory issues were traded for Conversion Loans. This meant that $613,000,000—or 9.6 per cent—of Victory Loan bonds were outstanding Oct. 14.

Five Victory Loan series, expiring between 1959 and 1966, were involved in the refinancing drive. The four conversion loan issues mature between 1961 and 1963, with interest rates of between three and 4½ per cent.

Cyprus Bombing Kills Soldier; Four Injured

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Reuters)—A British soldier was killed and four others injured in ambushes in Cyprus today.

The soldier died when his car was blown up by a land mine at Ayios Nicolaos, a northern Cypriot town.

He is the 10th British victim of Cypriot terrorists since Britain's Greek-Turkish partnership plan for the island came into operation Oct. 1.

Another soldier in the car was injured, and the other three were wounded when three bombs were thrown at their jeep in Fama-gusta.

A court of inquiry was being held today into a bomb explosion Monday at the $28,000,000 base at Akrotiri in south-west Cyprus.

The explosion damaged a Can-34 hours without letting them, this southeastern B.C. town.

Believed to be the world's first test-tube mammals, white mice bred in laboratory at London, Eng. When they were embryos, the mice were removed from the body of a mouse that had been normally mated a few days before. The embryos were then placed in a chemical medium for two days, during

Right-To-Work Issue In Six Of 48 States

By GEORGE KITCHEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (CP) — The "right to work" is an issue in six of the 48 states voting in the Nov. 4 U.S. congressional election.

In each of the six states—California, Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, Ohio and Washington—voters will be asked, in addition to electing federal and state officials, to indicate their approval or disapproval of proposed state laws which would outlaw the union shop in the industrial field.

Their votes may decide the whole national future of the controversial right-to-work laws, which already are in effect in 18 states, most of them non-industrial areas in the south and the west. Fresh support in the state field would be expected to trigger a campaign for a federal right-to-work statute and, eventually, an amendment to the United States constitution.

The issue, ripening into one of the hottest debates in the areas concerned, is primarily a battle between business and labor, with both sides putting up campaign funds.

PRO AND CON

Right-to-work laws are simple—at least on the surface. They prohibit unions and employers from entering into union shop agreements, under which all employees in a plant must join the recognized union within 30 or 60 days and maintain their membership. In other words, the laws rule out union membership as a condition of employment.

Federal law permits the union shop, but it does allow the individual states to ban it if they wish.

The laws have been hailed by management as beneficial to both labor and industry and denounced by labor leaders as vicious and destructive.

Their advocates claim they lead to better relations between management and labor, less industrial strife, steadier employment, stronger unions, greater state attraction for new industry and more security for employers, particularly small firms.

Foes are just as positive in asserting that the laws destroy unions or weaken them in their efforts to obtain more benefits, enable non-union workers to enjoy the gains won by labor organizations, impair job security, prevent union organization and reduce worker income.

Right-to-work laws have been in effect in some states for as long as a decade but the movement perhaps nourished by the disses from the U.S. Senate in query into labor racketeering, has gained momentum in recent months.

California and Ohio, both heavily industrialized, are considered key battlegrounds in the campaign. If right-to-work wins in either state, it will break through the fence that has confined it largely to agricultural states in the past. Big industrial states like Michigan might be next on the list.

Party politics inevitably color the right-to-work issue. The National Council for Industrial Peace, which is fighting enactment of the laws, is headed by two leading Democrats—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Herbert H. Lehman, former Democratic senator from New York. Illustrating a Republican split on the issue, the council has several Republicans on its executive board and has hired Fred Hall, former Republican governor of Kansas, to campaign against a right-to-work vote.

Majority U.S. Tourists Make Initial Visit

More than 81 per cent of American tourists come to B.C. for the first time.

This figure was quoted by an official of the Washington State Ferry system at the recent B.C. Travel Bureau convention at Harrison Hot Springs. Fred Heatley, trade board manager, who attended the convention said the official believed the majority of tourists came as a result of word-of-mouth recommendations from previous tourists who had enjoyed their visit.

These figures were arrived at by a survey sponsored by the state ferry department at Seattle, in which 15,000 people were polled, he said.

Mr. Heatley also reported that 19 resolutions were accepted by the convention for submission to the various government agencies. These resolutions, he said dealt with a variety of subjects.

One of the resolutions receiving the approval of the convention was a request to discontinue the compulsory star rating of motels, auto courts, resorts, etc. It was felt that an optional rating system would be more satisfactory, Mr. Heatley said.

Another resolution, submitted for the attention of the liquor control board asked for a "more realistic outlook" regarding the present liquor laws in the province.

Mr. Heatley commended the chairman of the convention, Ernest Evans, who is also the director of the B.C. Travel Bureau. "The meeting was a tremendous success," he said, "and all delegates felt it had been really worth while."

The Kelowna Board of Trade will press for immediate action by the department of highways to alleviate the present "dangerous condition" of Highway 97 north of Kelowna.

At an executive meeting of the board, A. R. Pollard recommended that a letter be sent to the highway department enquiring as to what could be done to the road, particularly in the vicinity of Finn's Corner. This area is often referred to as "suicide mile."

Mr. Pollard felt action was necessary in light of the number of serious accidents. The most recent accident occurred at about 200 yards north of Finn's corner, when Kenneth Taylor of Kelowna died after the south-bound car which he was driving failed to negotiate the turn.

A board member quoted an unofficial report as stating there had been 18 serious accidents in this particular area in recent years.

Ambush, Quick Death Mark New Phase In Mafia History

By HORACE CASTELL

PALERMO, Sicily (Reuters) — Ambushes and quick death today mark a new phase in the 160-year history of the Mafia, dreaded Sicilian underground organization. Local leaders have turned against each other and are fighting savagely for territorial supremacy.

Scores of people have died in the last two years—Mafia leaders, hired killers and innocent people who happened to witness a Mafia murder and were promptly silenced.

The two most notable "wars" were in Palermo's noisy fruit and vegetable market and in the fertile grazing fields and twisting cobbled streets of Corleone, near the island capital.

LEVIETTES

Nineteen people died in and around the fruit market in the struggle between rival Mafia bands for undisputed leadership of the profitable protection racket. The Mafia levies a tithe on all fruits and vegetables passing through the market. No stall owner dares to refuse to pay this "tax." No licences for stalls, bars or stores can be obtained without Mafia support.

Which of the two rival bands won the fruit market war is a mystery. Here, as elsewhere in Sicily, the iron rule is silence. The Mafia's motto is "An eye for an eye" from its inception around 1800 to immediately after the First World War, the Mafia was a tightly-knit society that to all purposes ruled Sicily, the Mediterranean's biggest island.

It levied "taxes" and dealt out justice. The Mafia were the real island police, and their leaders wielded great political influence.

On Mussolini's orders in the late 1920s, a brave and energetic prefect, Cesare Mori, made the first determined effort to uproot the Mafia in Sicily. He rounded up hundreds of leaders. He held mass trials. Those he could not convict he expelled to remote Italian islands for up to five years.

The Mafia struck back through its political friends and Mori was transferred from Sicily. After staying underground for a decade, the Mafia re-emerged, more powerful than ever.

LOST WITH ALL HANDS BUENOS AIRES (Reuters) — The Argentine naval tug Guarani, missing with its 36-man crew since Oct. 15, now is considered lost with all hands, the navy said today. The last message from the tug received a week ago said she was in a severe storm in the Drake Straits off the southern tip of South America.

REBELS TRAPPED

ALGIERS (Reuters) — Four hundred Nationalist insurgents today were reported surrounded in the Saida-Berthelot area of western Algeria by French forces. The anti-rebel operations started last Wednesday.

'Up front is where I need protection' Says Dick Shatto.

The versatile Argonaut back-fender was talking about winter protection for his car. "Prestone" Brand is the only anti-freeze that gives me complete protection up front in the cooling system of my car. Sure it protects against frost, fanning and clogging—but that's not all—not by a long shot," said the Big Four star. "Prestone" Anti-Freeze with magnetic film stops rust and corrosion, too.

Dick has been well drilled in the signals to call when he asks for anti-freeze. Only with "Prestone" Brand Anti-Freeze does he get magnetic film which coats every rubber and metal surface in a car's cooling system. That's why he insists on "Prestone" Anti-Freeze. You do the same—and make sure that's what you get by looking for the distinctive Green Tag which will be attached to your radiator.
